What is Google Partners?

Google Partners provides online marketing companies and professionals with the resources, training and support to help advertisers be more successful online. Agencies receive access to a range of benefits including free product exams and certifications, training events, promotional offers and rewards, professional networking, and other tools.

Members of Google Partners should aspire to earn the Google Partner badge. They can use the badge on websites and marketing materials and will be listed in Google Partners Search, which helps advertisers find badged agencies with relevant specializations that can help their business grow.

In this playbook agencies will learn about Google Partner benefits, find out how to display and talk about the badge, and see tips about how they can use the badge to let potential clients know they are a Google Partner.
Members of Google Partners vs Google Partner

Refrain from referring to yourself as a Google Partner unless your agency has qualified for the Google Partner badge or Premier Google Partner badge. Please reference the table below for information on the requirements for members of Google Partners vs. Google Partners.

What are company specializations?

Once you have earned the Google Partner badge, you can earn company specializations. Specializations recognize badged agencies that have one certified affiliated person in an AdWords product area, demonstrate increased product performance and expertise in that product area, and have a minimum 10K USD 90-day AdWords spend in that product area. Badged agencies can earn specializations in search advertising, mobile advertising, video advertising, display advertising and shopping advertising.

- Specializations help Partners demonstrate specific product knowledge to win new business and better differentiate themselves in the market.
- Specializations enable advertisers to identify Partners who are skilled in the AdWords product area they need help with.
- Advertisers can identify Partners with specializations through Google Partner Search and by looking for specialization icons wherever the badge is displayed.

Information on how to earn specializations is available in the Help Center.

How to use and display the badge

This section is for agencies who have earned Google Partner and Premier Google Partners status. If you have not yet earned the badge, please see the Help Center to understand how to become a Google Partner.
BADGE USE

Where to use the badge

You can use the Google Partner badge in your marketing materials (your website, social pages, emails) to indicate that you're qualified as a Google Partner and have earned specializations.

Visit the Help Center for more information on badge usage guidelines.

Where not to use the badge

You cannot show the Partner badge on any website or item that violates any law or regulation, or otherwise violates Google's editorial policies.
Google Partner badge

The dynamic Google Partner badge shows your agency name and specializations when users roll over the dots in the right corner. It is available for your website and will be implemented as a code snippet instead of a static image.

For other digital assets, like your email signature, please use the static badge.

Maintain a size of at least 180px wide and use the “rt” in Partner as a minimum clearance spacing reference. Because this badge is interactive, clear space is applied to the default state of the badge without hover state pop up menu showing.

Visit the Help Center to learn about how to access the online badge.
BADGE USE

Static Partner badge

The static badge should only be used on print materials and digital assets where the Partner badge animation does not fit.

Sign into the Google Partners portal to access your static badge and see the next page in this playbook for implementation guidelines.

If your agency hasn’t earned any specializations, use the static badge without specializations.
BADGE USE

Static badge implementation

Sign into the Google Partners portal to access your ready-to-use static badge assets and follow the usage guidelines below.

The folder contains .eps, .jpg, and .png files for digital (RGB) and print (CMYK) use.

- Placement and sizing
  - For print applications, maintain a size of at least 2.5 inches wide and use the “rt” in Partner as a minimum clear space
  - Specializations font should be no smaller than 6 points

- Mirror the online badge
  - Only list specializations that you have earned and are on your online badge
  - Only implement the badge assets distributed to you in the Partners portal
  - Use these terms: Specialized in, Search ads, Mobile ads, Video ads, Display ads, and Shopping ads

The static badge should remain in English and not be localized.
BADGE USE

Improper use

- Do not remove, distort, or alter any element of the badge.
- Do not translate or localize the word Partner in the badge.
- Do not change the aspect ratio or badge colors.
- Do not use the Google Partner logo. It is different than the badge and can only be used by Google.
- Do not translate or localize the word Premier in the badge.*

For more information, visit How to download and use the Google Partner badge.

*You may use the translated version of “Partners” or “Premier” strictly in text copy, but not in the badge image itself. “Google” must remain in English at all times.
BADGE USE

Improper use

Do not modify the badge design.

Do not mimic the badge design or Google Partners website for any other design elements.

Do not display the badge larger or more prominently than the agency’s logo, excluding specializations.
BADGE USE

Rules when using the Google Partner badge

Do not display the badge until you have qualified as a Google Partner.

Do not display the badge in a manner that is in Google’s sole opinion misleading, defamatory, infringing, libelous, disparaging, obscene, or otherwise objectionable to Google.

Do not isolate the badge along with your business, domain, product or service names, or in your logo, design, slogan, or other trademarks.

Do not display the badge on sites that violate laws, Google policies, or feature adult material.

You may not use the badge in any way other than as specified in these guidelines. Failure to comply with these instructions shall constitute a breach of the Google Partners Terms of Service.

For more information on rules when using the Google Partner badge, visit the Help Center.
Online placement

Use the dynamic badge with specializations whenever possible.

Examples: on your website or any placement that can embed and display the dynamic badge.
Include the static badge on your agency’s social networking site profile (LinkedIn, Facebook, Twitter, Google+) to show off your status as a badged Google Partner.

You can also link to your Google Partners public profile page.
Digital assets that do not accommodate the online badge

Include the static Google Partner badge in your email communications to remind clients of your expertise.

Only use the static badge on assets that do not accommodate the online version, like in email signatures.
