

Transform the way teams work

To compete in a digital economy, today's leaders must give their teams the right skills and tools to succeed. Made for a mobile, global workforce, Google Cloud's collaboration and productivity solutions, highly secure devices, and browser help teams stay connected, collaborate effectively, and spend more time doing work that matters.

Seamless collaboration

G Suite is Google's cloud-native productivity suite. It includes popular tools like Gmail, Drive for file management, Calendar for scheduling and time management, Docs for file sharing and real-time collaboration, and Hangouts for a seamless meeting experience. You can connect and work from anywhere, on any device, using our powerful mobile apps — your work is stored in the cloud, so it's always there when you need it.

Built-in intelligence

G Suite uses the power of Google Search and machine learning to help you focus on what matters. Spend less time scheduling meetings or sorting through email: G Suite intelligently surfaces content, recommends meeting times and email responses, and helps eliminate repetitive work.

Enterprise controls, enterprise security

The customer — not Google — owns their data. Google does not sell your data to third parties, there is no advertising in G Suite, and we never collect or use data from G Suite services for any advertising purposes. Our products meet stringent privacy and security standards based on industry best practices, and regularly undergo independent verification of security, privacy, and compliance controls. In addition to strong contractual commitments regarding data ownership, data use, security, transparency, and accountability, G Suite streamlines authentication, asset protection, and operational control through a comprehensive dashboard for admins. Android, Chrome Browser, and Chrome OS extend G Suite's built-in intelligence and granular controls to highly secure, connected devices and platforms that streamline mobile device management and identity and access control.
