

Next-generation driver assistance for safer roads: a technology developed with Google AI.

Making roads safer, one line of code at a time. Engineers at Valeo, a global leader in advanced driver-assistance systems, are using Gemini to accelerate the development of embedded intelligence devices that allow vehicles to seamlessly perceive and analyze their surroundings— all while maintaining strict control over quality, safety, and data privacy

Valeo

Google

