Drive sales and reach more customers with Google
Be discoverable

Every day, hundreds of millions of people turn to Google to find, discover, and shop for what they care about.
The average online shopping journey has over 140 touchpoints that can influence what people buy and who they buy it from.¹

For marketers, the challenge is how to show up at all of these moments, while delivering the personalized, relevant experiences shoppers have come to expect.

That’s where Google can help. Every day, hundreds of millions of people turn to Google to find, discover, and shop for what they care about. And not just Google Search — people also look for inspiration when they’re browsing their Google news feeds, watching YouTube videos, or checking their Gmail.

In fact, Canadian shoppers say they go to Google first more than any other source to discover or find a new brand.²

75% of global shoppers used a Google product (Search, Maps, YouTube) in the past week to help with shopping³

Even when they want to shop in-store, people research online before making a decision. This past holiday period, global shoppers searched online prior to 90% of in-store holiday purchases.⁴
In this guide you’ll learn how to meet your customers every step of the way, from the beginning of their journeys to driving discovery, influencing purchase decisions, and ultimately, increasing your overall sales.

Every one of these moments is a window into what your customers care about — which is why no one understands them better than Google.

To maximize total omnichannel value, add store visits into your Smart Bidding campaigns for Search, and include them in Target ROAS bidding for Shopping and Smart Shopping campaigns.
