

Chrome Enterprise Recommended Solution Overview with Comeen Play

The Enterprise-grade digital signage platform for internal and operational communication

As employees continue to return to the office, digital signage can be the best way to engage them with meaningful content.

However, maintaining a digital signage fleet and creating content for signage screens can be a challenge. Comeen Play with Chrome OS is the solution for internal communications at a large scale.

With Comeen Play, you get a global platform that meets the challenges of large groups while being integrated with your collaboration suites, your intranet, all with advanced user rights management .

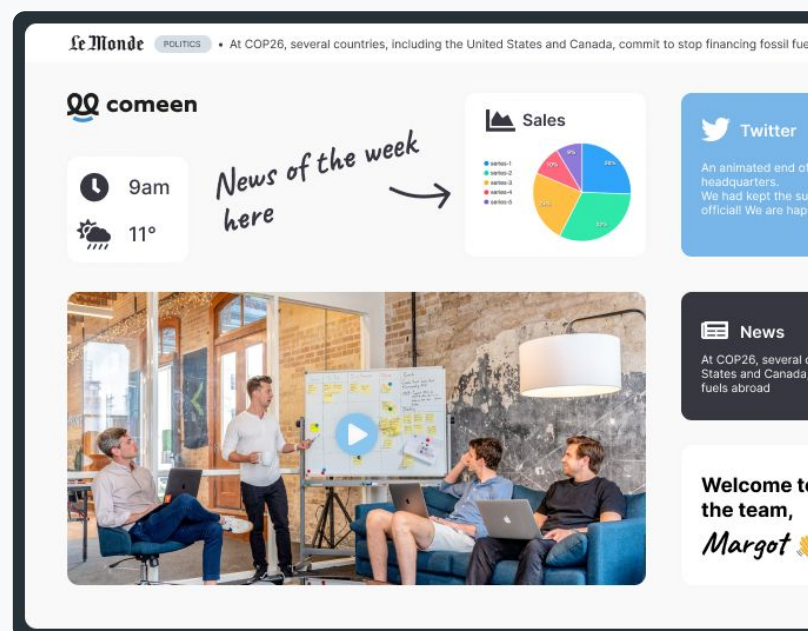

And with Chrome OS in kiosk mode, your device fleet powered by Comeen Play is secure and simple to deploy and manage.

Discover the benefits

Streamline your communication, better engage your team with your screens

With Comeen Play, our platform allows you to broadcast the latest posts from your Intranet or social networks, welcome new hires, share your open positions, and get up-to-date KPIs. Create your own templates that can be used by other teams within your company.

With Comeen Play and Chrome OS you can focus on broadcasting high-value content to your stakeholders, all though two products simplify fleet management and increase uptime.

Learn more about Comeen Play and Chrome OS