

Chrome Enterprise Recommended Solution Overview with Copper CRM

Build your most productive team and win customers for life with Copper CRM.

You work out of Gmail. So should your CRM.

Copper is the recommended CRM for Chrome users, loved by over 25,000+ small and medium-sized businesses globally.

Designed for people whose business relies on building enduring relationships, Copper - with the help of our Chrome extension - functions seamlessly in the background while you spend time on what matters: people.

The Chrome extension lets you work out of the apps you know and love and automatically synchronizes data with Copper, freeing you from data entry and the frustration of switching tabs all the time.

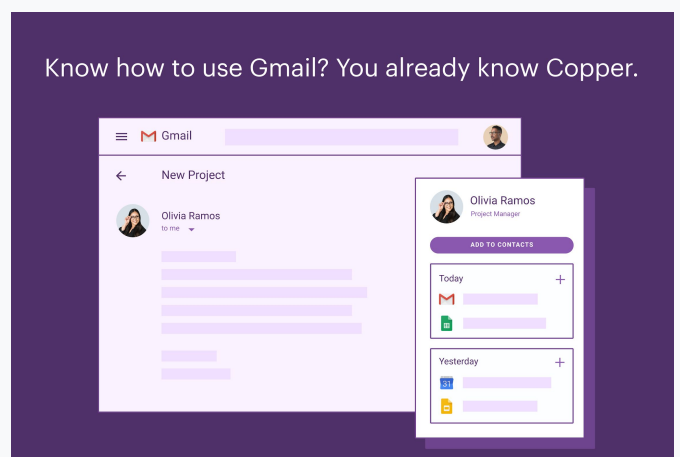

Copper was built to look and feel exactly like Google Workspace apps - so you and your team already know how to use it. Imagine that - a CRM your team will actually love.

Discover the benefits

Built to cultivate the human connection.

Copper's Chrome Enterprise extension surfaces everything you need to build better business relationships.

- People - You'll have perfect visibility into the history of interactions with prospects and customers.
- Process - Achieve effortless collaboration across your team.
- Pipeline - See exactly who to contact and when as opportunities flow through the pipeline.

Start a Free Trial today! Visit copper.com

