

Why it's important to book exams early ...

Google “forecasts” 3X the exam slots needed to Kryterion. Slots are available, but keep in mind:

- Priority — Any organization can “take” the slot on a first-come, first-served basis
- Timing — Like boarding a plane, not everyone can have the best seat or board at the same time

KEY TAKEAWAY

Don't wait! Book early to ensure availability and get the best time and date option for you (better to reschedule if needed than to miss your preferred test slot)

How to book your Google Cloud certification exam

- ✓ Alien Registration Card (Green Card or Permanent Resident Visa)

Tips to prepare for the exam

- Register for your exam as far in advance as possible. Appointments are set up for every 15 minutes around the clock. Top of the hour appointments fill up first. Consider scheduling on the quarter hour.
- Schedule early in the month. Appointments at the end of the month are in high demand. Earlier in the month provides the best chance at your first-choice time slot.
- Schedule at a test center if remote delivery options are limited.
- Do your best to prepare for your exam and test when scheduled. If you need to reschedule, do so as early as possible for the most options and to avoid fees.
- Ensure registration details exactly match your government ID. If it does not match exactly, you will not be able to test and may incur additional fees to reschedule if the mismatch is discovered on your test day.
- If you are testing online, confirm you have sufficient administrative rights on your device to download all required software. A few days before the exam, go to Webassessor and log in to your account. Install the new, secure browser and enroll in biometrics (a similar verification will also be done on test day).
- Make the check-in process smoother by having a reliable Internet connection, a working camera and microphone, and cleared desk surfaces.
- Review additional exam prep materials from Kryterion and Google.

Tips for preparing for the remote proctored exam

A few days before the exam

- Confirm you have sufficient administrative rights on your device to download all required software.
- Log in to your Webassessor account. Install the new, secure browser and enroll in biometrics (a similar verification will also be done on test day).
- Make the check-in process smoother by having a reliable Internet connection, a working camera and microphone, and cleared desk surfaces.

On exam day

- Be familiar with the steps to launch the exam on exam day.
- Review additional exam prep materials from Kryterion and Google.

Note: Depending on the demand for exams at any given time, some exam takers may experience a delay for the button to launch the exam to appear and/or for the proctor to start the exam. Please be patient.

If you experience issues while taking the exam

- Take screenshots as evidence of the issue. Contact Webassessor support immediately via Live Chat. Inform them about your issue and request a resolution. If Webassessor support reschedules your exam, log in to confirm and/or check the date and time.
- If Live Chat is not available, submit a request using the form at the Kryterion support site. Select “Online Exam Technical” for the case type.

Tips to successfully prepare a remote (online) proctored test taking environment

- Do not read the question out loud, or even whisper loudly
- Do not look away from the screen too often or for too long
- Do not leave your desk or move away from the camera
- No food or drink
- Watch a video on how online proctored exams work

What to do if you need to retake the Google Cloud certification exam

If you don't pass an exam, you can take it again after 14 days.

If you don't pass the second time, you must wait 60 days before you can take it a third time.

If you don't pass the third time, you must wait 365 days before taking it again.
