Professional Data Engineer

Partner Certification Kickstart is a fully on-demand certification training program exclusively for Google Cloud partners. Complete the required activities within 10 weeks of enrollment to be eligible for a complimentary exam voucher.

Important: Only registrations associated with a partner email domain are considered valid. Using a personal email will result in limited access to the learning platform and ineligibility for a voucher, even though program reminders may be received.

Learning platform

The Professional Data Engineer certification learning program (~15-20 hrs/week, ~5 weeks) is available on Google Cloud Skills Boost for Partners, the platform hosting all on-demand partner training content. Access is available at no cost for Google Cloud partners. If you have an account under the same email address used for registration, simply log in and follow the learning program. If not, follow these instructions.[1]

Important: To avoid unnecessary delays in receiving the voucher, be sure to use the same email address you used for registration to complete the required learning within 10 weeks of enrolling.

Voucher requirements [2,3]

- Register with a valid Partner email & receive the welcome email
- Prepare Data for ML APIs on Google Cloud
